

OFFICE OF EQUITY AND INCLUSION

Dear Students of Jesuit High School,

The Office of Equity and Inclusion is sharing with you an open letter from some of your brothers. Jesuit Sacramento supports this student to student dialogue and invites the Jesuit student body to join the campus community in more anti-racist practices. Below you will find the communication and ways to support and act.

If you have any questions or concerns please feel free to contact the Office of Equity and Inclusion.

*Thank you,
Jordan Brown
Director of Equity and Inclusion*

Our fellow Marauders,

Today we humbly write to you to continue discussing and recognizing racism. Racism has created a chronic impact on our community and the time has come for it to be properly addressed.

As men for and with others, it is imperative that we come together to resist racism through the recognition of the natural right that every person deserves justice and equality. Back in June, five of us sat down and wrote an open letter to our Jesuit community about our observations on how racism and injustice has been a part of our school environment. This letter details our frustrations, hopes, concerns, and ideas; we would like to share our letter with all of you to start conversations, inspire change, and create an overall better environment on our campus.

Whether you are a fellow student, alumni, parent, teacher, or concerned member of the Jesuit community, we are all equal in the eyes of God, thus we implore you to find yourself within this letter and support your brothers, sons, and students, by signing below.

For the greater glory of God,

Initial communication included full student signatures.
